

Oyster Trail & Sea Foraging

PRIVATE TOURS HOSTED BY JERSEY WALK ADVENTURES

For the Residents of Hotel La Place & Country Cottages

This is a hosted event including luxury transport from La Place Hotel & Country Cottages to the oyster beds in the Royal Bay of Grouville on the South East coast of Jersey & return.

Join Derek and Trudie from Jersey Walk Adventures on a marine wild food foray as we stroll down to the biggest oyster beds in the British Isles. They will reveal what you can forage from the sea - in the past Jersey folk called it low water fishing - and share stories of the 19th century oyster fishing, Jersey's gold rush.

On the way get to know the difference between Praires, Palourdes, Cockles and Clams. All are edible and have surprisingly different tastes.

To add a vegetable side dish to our walk we'll introduce you to a few edible seaweeds which often go unnoticed or disregarded as useless. They are, however, an essential ingredient in sushi, miso soup, jellies, sweets and even ice cream.

Finish this two and a half hour walk with the opportunity to sample half a dozen fresh Jersey oysters with a glass of bubbles in the Seymour Inn.

Starting point is Seymour slip opposite Seymour Inn, Grouville. Wellington boots and walking poles are included in the price, plus six oysters and a drink at the Seymour Inn, plus transport.
